Royal Arch Masons

Have Big Time.

Last Saturday the Chapter of Royal Arch Masons took three victims over the road, they had one great time. This is one of the liveliest chapters in the state, they have work at most every meeting, and occasionally they have a called meeting to confer the degrees.

Mr. R. W. Cole, is the High Priest, and is one of the brightest Royal Arch Masons in the state, and does the work in the most impressive way possible. They had as their "victims" E. B. Hemphill, H. C. Mills and H. C. Payne.

The First Pair Of Pants.

Cole Hughes & Co., have become very patriotic, they will give your new son his first pair of pants, all you have to do is to drop them a card, write them a letter or stop in and tell them about the new arrival, they will not ask you to wait until the young fellow is a year old, but will deliver the pants to you right then and there, they are to be put on the young american on his first birth day. Don't forget this, it is a bona fide gift.

Modern Philosophy

THE DEATH GANTLET

The doctors are such funny jays, I do not understand their ways. They come and sit beside my bed and make me feel I'm almost dead, so they can hand me out their pills to cure me of my pains. They charge me twenty bucks a call, so they can make a money haul; and when they've taken all buck they let my case go plumb to shucks and go to see some other man who has some kale stored in a can. Why, way back there in sixty four that good old hearted Doctor Moore kept every person well and free just from his jokes and boneset tea; and only charged a franc or two or just a wak of home-made chew. But now we cannot eat a bit except what science says is fit, but as I doctored some poor guy, I'd give him meat and apple pie. I'd give him slaw and beans and cake and everything that one can make, for food is food both here and there, in spite of doctor's windy air. But when the doctors lay us low, the undertakers strike a blow, and so we leave in rags and shame without a red cent to our name. Oh friends! no matter if you're few, I ask this single thing of you. When I launch out my boat to sea, don't leave my tombstone charged to me.

Commits Suicide.

Last Monday morning Mr. P. J. Galloway of Pineville, committed suicide by cutting his throat, it is said that he became dispondent over business matters, having been in business there for many years, he sold out the business some time back, and it is thought that he became dissatisfied and it worked his mental faculties until he became violent and ended his own life.

Slackers Few

The farmers of America have not merely done their "bit"; they have done their "best". And the same thing can be said of a lot of others. It is true of the newspaper publishers, the bankers, brokers, insurance men and others who made the liberty loan a success. There have been and there are "slackers", but they are a small minority.

Advertising Lowers Price of Goods.

When the manufacturer of a famous breakfast food specialty began advertising, his goods sold at 15 cents a package. Today the package is 50 per cent larger and the price has been reduced to 10 cents. Advertising did it.

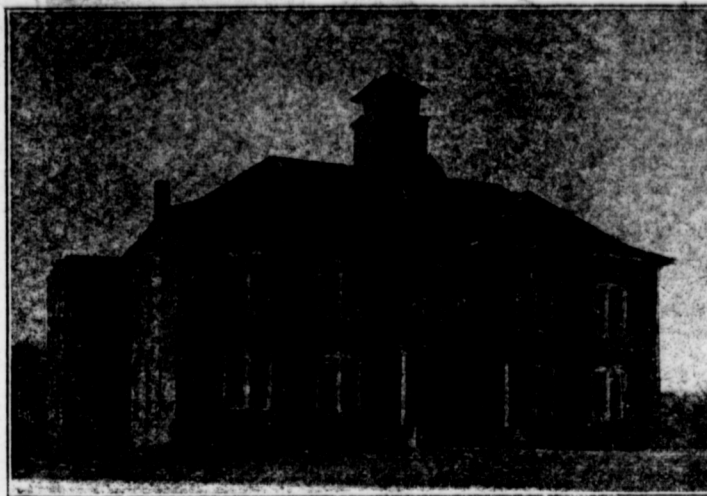

The producer of another well-known food specialty is selling his goods at 25 per cent less to the wholesale grocery trade than four years ago.

Twenty years ago a nationally advertised shaving stick was sold in a cheap metal leatherette-covered box. Today a stick containing 20 per cent more soap is sold in a handsome nickel box at the same price.

The most conspicuous example of them all is the automobile business. Compare the $5,000 or $10,000 cars of ten years ago with the equally good cars of today, selling for a fraction of the money.

How has this been done? By means of advertising, which has created demand on a larger scale and thus permitted production and distribution on a large scale. Result—improved manufacturing efficiency and reduced selling costs. And all of this in the face of a steady increase in the cost of labor and raw materials which, with advertising eliminated, might in many cases have fairly doubled the price of the goods.

Mr. Fred T. Jones, left here last Tuesday for Louisville, he will leave there Wednesday for Newport News, R. I., where he will be assigned to his ship as a member of the Navy of the United States.

Baptist Institute.

This is one of best Institutions of learning to be found in the state. It was founded by members of the Baptist Church, and is kept running by the hard work of the fellows who have taken it in charge. Sometime ago the Southern Baptist Convention got behind it and gave it that kind of a boost that it takes to make anything of this kind go.

Its President is a man that comes well recommended from the "Lone Star" State, and we predict that this year will excel anything that has ever been done at this Institution, and that when they open up next month that they will have a large number of students, and that when the winter term shall begin that there will be twice the number that was there last year.

While this is a religious institution, it does not compel its students to unite with any church, every student is left to choose his own mode of worship, the question of whether or not you are a member of any church is never asked, the only thing is that you must be a moral man or woman, and you must live in conformity with the rules and regulations of the faculty which are always fair and right.

Seasonable Suggestions

Remember that the blades and shucks of the corn will feed as much stock as the same land in grass hay. The way to get this value is to cut and shock the corn at the proper stage and shred or stack the stalks and feed as you would hay.

Never was the hog pasture as important as at present. It can be made to save about or altogether half of the grain this winter. Crimson or red clover can be started if the land is ready. If the land still has to be prepared, winter oats, rye or barley will be the best thing to sow.

A ton of manure for each cow or thousand-pound steer for each month that they are kept up and fed is what can be saved. If you are not getting that, plan for more bedding and to keep the stock either in the barns or out in a field where the fertility is needed. Do not let them stand in the barn lot.

On thin uplands in the South phosphate fertilizers cannot be left off without loss, even at present prices. Acid phosphate and basic slag meal are the chief sources of phosphoric acid. Bone meal also contains a large per cent of fairly available phosphoric acid. Raw ground rock phosphate is very slowly soluble, but may come in better favor than ever before if acid phosphate gets scarcer and higher.

Wise or Otherwise

Minneapolis Tribune—If the slackers are sent to jail for slacking it will be easy to find them when the order comes for mobilization of the troops.

Pittsburg Gazette Times—Says son-in-law to father-in-law: "If I permit you to keep my wife for the period of the war, can you support her in the manner to which she is accustomed?"

Philadelphia Press—Germany thinks its enemies are due for a moral collapse, which is something Germany is safe from, not having the necessary morals.

Civic League Notes

The last regular meeting of the Civic League was held at the home of Mrs. M. S. Costellow. A large number responded to roll call and a very interesting meeting followed. The League have before them several very important matters such as, good roads, cemetery improvements, new depot and better conditions in general in our town. This Club is in earnest and every citizen in Knox county should give their support to the efforts of these women.

In response to Mr. Hoover's suggestion, "To stop all refreshments at Club" during the war the motion was carried that this Club do so.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Creal, Sept. 6th at 3 o'clock.

PROFIT BY THIS

Don't Waste Another Day

When you are worried by backache; By lameness and urinary disorders—Don't experiment with an untried medicine. Follow Barbourville people's example. Use Doan's Kidney Pills.

Here's Barbourville testimony. Verify it if you wish:

Tyre Lawson, Main St., Barville, says: "I suffered with my kidneys off and on for twenty years and was down for weeks at a time, suffering with my back. The pains almost drew me double. I could not walk straight and often had lie on the ground to rest my back. I could not lift anything or do any work and had to give up my job. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me, making me sound and well. I have had no backache or other signs of kidney trouble for two years."

60c. at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Join the "Chuck hole League," they are right, the object of this organization is to arrange to fill all holes in the roads without having to levy an additional tax. See Judge Dishman, give him your name, as soon as there has been sufficient number signed up a meeting will be called to organize the "Chuck hole league."

AFTER THE WAR.

The war is not over yet. It almost certainly will not be over this year. It may not be over for several years. This country is just beginning to prepare to get ready to go into it. Still it is not too early to begin to think about and to prepare for the end of it and the things after that.

All that this country sacrifices to carry on the war will have been well spent if after the war comes a period of better understanding among the nations, of more respect in international dealings for right and justice, of fairer treatment for weak nations and little peoples, of greater individual freedom and happiness for the lands and races that have been oppressed.

All that is given will be given largely in vain if after this war the old spirit of lust for power and desire for conquest remains, and if other nations rise up to strive, as Germany is now striving, for world dominion.

We all long for peace to come, but the most terrible thing that could come to the world now would be an inconclusive peace. Better five years of war than peace tomorrow if that peace left the world divided into two hostile camps, each preparing for another struggle.

The German autocracy and the idea it stands for must be crushed before any lasting peace can be made.

And when this is done and a peace of justice is obtained—a peace that will give the small nations an equal chance with the great, there must be formed a league of nations to enforce peace and to that league every nation must be invited to belong. There must be no trade wars, no boycotts, no attempts after the war to prevent the legitimate recovery and expansion of any nation. Such things can only make for future wars.

There will be other wars after this; other wars, possibly, involving, as this one does, the whole world. Peace on earth is as yet a transient thing. But for all this, the tendency of the civilized world is away from war and towards peace and justice. A thousand years ago almost every man was a warrior or a slave. A thousand years from now we may be sure wars will be much less frequent than now. Whatever will make for progress toward an abiding peace is worth while. The two things that will do most to prevent war in the future are absolute equality and fairness in all trade relations and the joining of the nations in an armed league to punish offenders against the peace of the world.

Big Coal Operation

Now Underway.

Mr. P. M. Alder, Dr. Rex E. Steele and John G. Gillespie, of Virginia, are opening up a new field on the Cumberland & Manchester Railroad, about four miles from Barbourville. They have purchased 300 acres of land that is underlain with the best coal in the county, they are now putting in their tipples and driving entries. These gentlemen are wide awake. They saw the advertisement of the lands for sale in the Mountain Advocate, they came here relying upon the truth of the Advertisement and found it just as stated and bought the property. They will be ready to ship coal in sixty days. This is one of the best coal propositions in the county, and is easy to get out.

Why Not Keep Public Buildings Decent?

Two or three courthouses recently seen were a positive disgrace to the counties to which they belonged. In fact, the great majority of courthouses are not kept clean. Waste paper, mud and, worse than all else, tobacco juice are always in evidence. The two disgusting habits of spitting tobacco juice everywhere and of scrawling and marking wherever a place is found to make marks continue to render our public building unsightly. And both habits seem to be industriously cultivated by a large proportion of our people.

The boy who makes marks on the white walls of a courthouse or schoolhouse has not had the training he needs. The man who spatters floor and sidewalks with tobacco spit lacks some of the instincts of decency. The community that tolerates dirt and disorder in and about its public buildings has not yet attained to an ideal state of civilization.

For Sale

I have for sale at once, a house and lot on Depot street. The lot is bounded on the west by depot street, on the north by a 25 foot alley, on the east by Broadway street, and on the south by W. M. Kitchell's property.

The house contains 8 rooms, it is thoroughly plumbed and equipped with water, gas and electricity, good bath room, cellar, a garage, servants house, wood and coal house, smoke house, an underground gasoline storage tank, that holds 2 barrels of gasoline equipped with pump. The roof is of new hand made chestnut shingles. I will sell cheap, this means business and quick action. For full particulars, call on or address.

WE GROW AND LEAD

Next week is the Knox County Fair. This Bank has put up more than $100.00 cash in premiums for bulls, pigs and poultry. We want every boy to bring his "Duroc" pig, the boys and girls to bring their poultry, and the "Shorthorn" clubmen to bring their bulls. The Bank put out these bulls, pigs and eggs to encourage better farming in Knox County.

The business of this Bank has grown to such an extent that this Bank can make the loans except in very small amounts at 6 per cent, and the Bank has fixed this rate. We have plenty of money and can and will help all our customers and friends with such money that they may need for legitimate purposes. Open an account with us. We can and will help you when you need it.

The Horse that

Can Pull Things.

That is the horse that is needed on the farms of the Central South. One traveling about in Tennessee and Kentucky cannot escape the conclusion that there are entirely too many lightweight horses and mules doing farm work, entirely too many farmers making their own labor count for less than it should simply because they have too little power ahead of the implement with which they work.

This section needs a score of good, block, medium-weight Percheron stallions for every one it now has. Crossed with the prevailing light mares, these stallions would produce geldings heavy enough to handle modern farm machinery and mares large enough to produce mules of size and of value. The South simply must get heavier work stock if it is to make its farming count for what it should.

The Captivity of Judah

Comments on last Sunday's Sunday school lesson by Mrs. Sallie Lytle Hatton.

"As I live saith the Lord Jehovah I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked." The great law of the universe is perfect and unchangeable. The sun and moon and stars and planets—that is the heavenly bodies of which this earth is one—each have a circular path to go round. We have seen them come between us and the moon and move on. Sometimes, no doubt, we pass between the sun and other planets and other people may look at our Earth through smoked glass. This great compass work is laid off in order—each celestial body has its certain period of time, in which events happen in certain order, which constantly and unerringly repeats its routine of work. How beautifully and imperceptibly the night follows the day and winter follows the seasons spring, summer and autumn. These are the orderly and systematic arrangements of the Creator. This great clock-work of the universe has been wound up with the keys of eternity by the hand of omnipotence. History does not record a time and we certainly do not remember a time when this order did not go on in its scheduled time, except when Joshua called for the sun to stand still on Gideon. Joshua was furnished a light—anyway that was all he wished. In all matters we can trust God for His ways are best.

God knows the way; He holds the key,
He guides us with unerring hand,
Sometime with tearless eyes we'll see
Sometime we'll understand."

Sin brings its own punishment. The laws of God are for OUR good. If we turn our backs upon them and suffer, we bring it on ourselves.

"Mans inhumanity to man makes countless millions mourn," but that is for a time—out of which we may be benefitted but God is with the weak and oppressed and they are going to be rescued and the tyrant brought to justice.

Zedekiah was the last king of Judah. The kingdom was sinful, idolatrous and torn by internal jealousies and was weak and at the mercy of two greater powers, the Chaldeans and Egyptians. It was like a sheep in between two savage beasts. Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon, then Nebuchadnezzar came with all his army and besieged Jerusalem for more than a year but they made a plucky defense from their walls, and when walls were weakened they tore down houses and strengthened the walls. They were starved till they were black in the face but finally the walls were broken and Zedekiah and ten thousand captives were taken to Babylon. Their kingdom perished but they never worshiped idols afterwards.

As any earthly kingdom Judah had its rise and fall—had good and bad kings. As a people they were God's chosen people, and they have given most to the world. They have given us the bible, the oldest record in the world. A history of the religious development of mankind for four thousand years. She has given Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, Judah and Israel, Moses the Law Giver, Aaron, the enlightener and the tribe of the scholarly priests—the Levites, Joshua, the warrior who brought the tribes to their country where they could establish a tabernacle for Jehovah. King David, the Psalmist and hero and founder of the Holy City, Jerusalem, Solomon the wisest man and builder of the temple, Isaiah and the prophets, the good kings Hezekiah and Josiah. From this people in Bethlehem of Judea was born Jesus, the Saviour of the world.

God's word is the word of Love.

Mr. W. H. McDonald,
Barbourville Ky.,

My dear friend:

This may be a surprise to you, but for old time sake thought I would drop you a line just to inform you I am yet living and have not forgotten you. I truly hope my little message finds you well and enjoying a prosperous life, as for myself I am alright and rather enjoy myself even tho I am in a war stricken country, I would like to write you things that would be most interesting, but censorship won't permit it.

Give my best to my friend and tell them I am well, by the way Henry if you could send me the Advocate I certainly would appreciate it and some day will repay you, the above written and undersigned is my correct address.

Your friend,

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Furnish and son Ben, were here from Barbourville from Sunday until Wednesday. Mr. Furnish was here as a witness in the suit of the Bank of Mt. Vernon, against Allen & Sons.—Mt. Vernon Signal.

Picture in Disguise.

Many and strange have been the vicissitudes of some of the world's greatest pictures, and a fine painting which is owned in England has an interesting history. This remarkable picture, which for some years consisted of a painting of flowers, was pronounced by an art dealer to be merely a mask for some other picture, and on his receiving permission he gradually cleaned off the flowers, discovering underneath a very fine portrait of Charles I. by Van Dyck. It is supposed that the portrait was thus disguised in order to save it from destruction by the Roundheads at the time of the commonwealth.—London Standard.

Great $10,000 Saddle Horse Stake For 1917 Kentucky State Fair

Owners and Breeders Throughout the Country Interested In President Cohen's Ambitious Enterprise.

RICHLIEU KING, 1916.

HERMAN STRAUS & SONS' CO. CUP.

LEVY BROTHERS' CUP.

Two of the array of trophies offered in the great $10,000 five gaited saddle horse stake at the fifteenth annual Kentucky State Fair, the week of Sept. 10, are magnificent silver cups donated by the two leading mercantile establishments of Louisville in their lines, the Levy Brothers' Clothing company and the H. Straus & Sons' Co. department store.

HON. MAT S. COHEN, commissioner of agriculture and, by virtue of this office, president of the Kentucky State Fair, has secured a $10,000 five gaited saddle horse stake for the 1917 Kentucky State Fair to be held in Louisville the week of Sept. 10-15.

Commissioner Cohen, with the unanimous indorsement and enthusiastic support of the members of the state board of agriculture, was untiring in his efforts to secure the interest and co-operation of horse owners and breeders throughout the country, and his plans were crowned with splendid success. From nearly every city of any size in the United States letters have poured in upon the commissioner eulogizing his brilliant achievement and commending the vitalizing effect of such a project upon the horse interests of the country.

World Will Look to America.

The commissioner has made it known that this very motive inspired him in his efforts for this gigantic prize list, as it is his firm belief that at the close of the present disastrous and exhausting war all foreign nations will look to America for foundation stock and new blood and that this nation should prepare for the demand. At present he declares that the breeding operations of this country have ceased to an alarming extent and that just such inspiration as this hitherto unheard of stake is necessary to arouse the horsemen and breeders of the United States.

Entrance Fee Waived.

In addition to the magnitude of the prize money, the fact that any entrance fee is waived and the horse owner or breeder privileged to enter as many animals as he cares to nominate free of charge and that stable room and bedding are provided by the State Fair without cost to the owner is certain to attract the attention of the entire horse world and to make the five gaited saddle horse events of the 1917 Kentucky State Fair the most sensational saddle horse affair of the age.

The battle royal for the $10,000 in prizes will open Monday night, Sept. 10, with a grand prize total of $2,500 offered the five gaited saddle stallion of any age who bears off the championship honors of America in his sex class.

BIG SHOW FOR WOMEN PLANNED FOR STATE FAIR

One of the Most Creditable Exhibits
In the Entire Gigantic Display.

Busy housewives and experts in arts and crafts are taking advantage of every moment in preparation for the showing to be made at the fifteenth annual Kentucky State Fair, to be held in Louisville the week of Sept. 10.

The Woman's department is naturally the most interesting portion of the State Fair to womankind and is likewise one of the most creditable exhibitions in the entire gigantic display.

The entry list for this department will close Aug. 27, and a "hurry up call" is issued by Kentucky State Fair Secretary Fount T. Kremer, Suite 604 Republic Building, Louisville, Ky.

For catalogue or information address Fount T. Kremer, Secretary Kentucky State Fair, Suite 604 Republic Building, Louisville, Ky.

The prize money donated and set aside in this class is as follows:

How Prize Money Is Divided.

One thousand dollars to the horse winning first prize, $625 to the horse winning second prize, $375 to the horse winning third prize and $250 to the horse winning fourth prize. In addition to the first prize of $1,000 the saddle stallion proving champion of the country in his class will receive a sterling silver cup, on which will be engraved "Championship of America for five gaited saddle stallion, any age," and which will be valued at $250.

On Tuesday night of Fair week the mare division of the saddle horse stake will be shown under the same conditions and with the same amounts and divisions as in the stallion rings.

Wednesday night the exhibition of geldings will take place in identically the same manner and with the same divisions.

Saturday night the grand finale of the horse show will take place, when the four champions of America in their particular sex classes meet to compete for $2,500 in prize money and the title of grand champion of America. The money in the grand championship event will be divided the same as in the sex classes, and, in addition, the winner will receive a sterling silver trophy known and inscribed as the "Grand Championship of America for five gaited saddle stallion, mare or gelding of any age."

Judges Carefully Picked.

Entries for these stakes will close Aug. 1, and all nominations should be sent in immediately to Fount T. Kremer, secretary of the Kentucky State Fair, Republic Building, Louisville.

Three judges will be selected to preside in these rings, the officials to be named by the State Board of Agriculture of Kentucky, the State Board of Agriculture of Missouri and the State Board of Agriculture of California. This guarantees judges of the highest integrity, ability and nation wide reputation among horsemen and officials eminently well suited to serve in the most spectacular and important horse event the world has ever known.

For catalogue or information address Fount T. Kremer, Secretary Kentucky State Fair, Suite 604 Republic Building, Louisville, Ky.

HOLSTEINS PROMINENT AT KENTUCKY STATE FAIR

Prize Money Doubled For the "Stars of the Show."

Holsteins will be one of the most prominent classes in the beef cattle department of the coming Kentucky State Fair, to be held in Louisville the week of Sept. 10. The prize list for this breed of efficient dairy performers has been doubled and now represents the interesting sum of $800.

All of the classes throughout the beef cattle department have been largely increased, but the Holstein aggregation bids fair to be the "stars of the show." A model dairy in operation is promised as an adjunct to the dairy cattle exhibition, and there will be new features of scientific dairy management marking the cattle exhibit of the fifteenth annual State Fair.

Military Marshals.

Like many other French words, "marchal" in its older form "marchal" is of purely Teutonic derivation. A curious history—the marshals do not owe their name to Mars, though they are his votaries. In olden times they were about the humblest men in an army—horse servants or groomers.

Then they advanced to the dignity of being horseholders, and those highly respected artisans are still "marchals" in France, though "ferrants" has to be added to make their calling clear. And, while "marchal de France" is a magnificent title, there are also "marchals des logis," who are in cavalry regiments, and "marchals" are in infantry regiments—Exchange.

Where Fenelon Was Bishop.

Cambrai has made much cambric (to which it gives its name) and has seen many wars. During the French revolution it was almost the chief seat of war, and from the beginning of the last great campaign against Napoleon it served as Wellington's headquarters. After Waterloo it was one of eighteen fortresses which were placed for five years under his supervision. Though once part of the Netherlands, it had up to the outbreak of the war in 1914 been for nearly a century one of France's proudest possessions and prized all the more because from its see one of the most versatile of Frenchmen, Fenelon, derived his title.—London Mirror.

Her Salute to the Flag.

A little child visiting Abraham Lincoln with her father in Mr. Lincoln's private office when he was president of the United States, says the New York Sun, suddenly turned to Mr. Lincoln and said, "Mr. President, what is the best way for a little girl to salute the American flag?"

Mr. Lincoln was puzzled and finally said: "Why, my little dear, I have never given the matter any thought. Have you any suggestion to make?" "Well," the child said, "why can't we place our right hands over our hearts and just gaze at the flag?" Mr. Lincoln said, "I think that would be splendid."

Remarkable Feats of Strength.

Louis de Boufflers, who lived in the sixteenth century, could break a bar of iron with his hands. The strongest man could not take from him a ball which he held between his thumb and first finger. While standing up, with no support whatever, four strong soldiers could not move him. He remained as firm as a rock. Sometimes he amused himself by taking on his shoulders his own horse, fully harnessed, and with that heavy load he promenade the public square, to the great delight of the inhabitants.

Mr. Sam Hays returned last week from Tennessee, where he had spent several days visiting his old friends and relatives, he made the trip in his trusted buggy, you know while the auto is a better way to get there quick, he happened to think of the awful condition of the roads and took the old style way, with the horse and buggy.

The Knox County Fair, which closes this evening, is a success from a financial standpoint, that is to say that the attendance was good, in fact better than for several years. There was some very fine stock shown, but the premiums were so small that they do not begin to pay the expense of bringing them to the fair and taking care of them.

The Williams Stock Company are with us this week. They are the cleverest and cleanest set of show people that ever came to this city, they gave a real good show Tuesday night entitled, "Down on the farm" Mrs. Williams did the old maids part and did it well, to see her and her brother, Dick Lewis, is well worth the money the whole show cost.

Liver Trouble.

"I am bothered with liver trouble about twice a year," writes Joe Dingman, Webster City, Iowa "I have pains in my side and back and an awful soreness in my stomach. I heard of Chamberlain's Tablets and tried them. By the time I had used half a bottle of them I was feeling fine and had no signs of pain." Obtainable everywhere.

Married.

Last Monday, Mr. Arthur Clark and Miss Lutie Lockhart, gave their friends a surprise by going to Jellico and getting married.

Mr. Clark is the son of Mr. Henry B. Clark, of this city, the manager of the Jellico Grocery Co., and who was for sometime Cashier of The National Bank of John A. Black, and one of the wealthiest farmers in the county. Arthur himself is engaged with the Grocery Co., and is a fine young man. Miss Lutie, the bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Lockhart, who lives on depot street, she is a young lady of refinement and culture and of a lovable disposition. We congratulate these young people, and hope that they may have a long happy prosperous married life.

Mr. W. B. Parks and wife are visiting friends and relatives here this.

M. Cannon has opened a new Hotel and boarding house at Heidrick Junction. You can get anything you want to eat while waiting for the departure of the train to Manchester.

Boulevard and Esplanade.

Both "esplanade" and "boulevard" are military terms by origin. The original "boulevard" was a bulwark or horizontal part of the rampart, and an "esplanade" was originally the glacis or slope of the counterescarp of a fortified place. A writer 200 years ago noted that the word boulevard was "now chiefly taken for the void space between the glacis of a citadel and the first houses of a town," hence its extension to other "void spaces" suitable for promenading. The old French "esplanade" was defined by Cotgrave as "a planing, leveling, evening of ways," from Latin "explanare," to smooth or flatten out, whence the English words "explain" and "explanation."

Raise Some Chickens This Fall.

There should be a big crop of fall chickens raised this year. It is time now to be at work. Few poultry raisers have much success with chicks hatched during the very hot weather, but chicks hatched next month can be successfully handled and made to pay.

On the average farm the chickens largely live on what would otherwise be wasted. Therefore, the raising of a few more chickens is a positive addition to the country's food supply. It is also a positive addition to the contents of the farmer's or the farm woman's pocketbook.

Raise some chickens this fall.

Commissioner's Sale

By order of the Knox Circuit Court rendered at its April term, 1917, in the case of City of Barbourville, Plaintiff, against C. S. Coyt and Mary Coyt, Defendants, I will, as Master Commissioner, on the 3rd day of September, 1917, same being the first day of the September term of the Knox Circuit Court, sell at the court house door in Barbourville, Ky., to the highest and best bidder, the following described property, real estate, to satisfy the judgment in said case, amounting to $117.45 with interest from October 1st, 1914, and $45.00 probable cost.

One certain lot and premises lying and being in the City of Barbourville, Knox county, Ky., bounded as follows: Beginning on School street, on the north side of the same at the southwest corner of lot now owned by John C. Main; thence west with School street 213 1/2 feet to L. D. Stanfill's lot; thence a northerly direction to Short street; thence east with Short street about 213 1/2 feet to a stone, thence to the beginning.

Said property will be sold on a credit of six months, the purchaser to execute bond with approved security, bearing interest at 6% from date, having the force and effect of a judgment and retaining a lien on said property until the purchase money is paid.

WITNESS my hand, this the 15th day of August, 1917.

Exonerations of Col. Jim Maret

One of the mountain counties, some two years since, promised to make a present of an automobile to Col. Jim Maret, in recognition of his successful efforts towards putting Boone Way thru the Cumberland. In his "Notes" to his home paper, The Mt. Vernon Signal, last week, the Colonel humorously referred to the matter as follows: "That long promised tin Lizzie has proved a nightmarish dream. Probably it may be sent him by mail from Sears & Roebuck, enclosed in a mail bag; possibly it may, upon opening the package, prove to be an Irish buggy, sometimes facetiously called a wheelbarrow; if not that then a stick horse would beat nothing some. Who knows what time may bring forth these war days. 'Jess keep on livin' an' hopin' tho you die disappointed.'"
